Job Description

The Powder Horn is a 27 hole nationally recognized golf community located at the base of the Big Horn Mountains in north central Wyoming. We are in search of motivated and detail-oriented interns for the 2011 season. Our young and energetic managers strive to be the best at helping people succeed in the business of golf.

Achieving a top 100 modern course rating, the layout offers spectacular views, and every measure is taken to preserve the natural beauty of the land. We are dedicated to environmentally friendly practices as we participate in the Audubon International Cooperative Sanctuary program. The course is the site of regional USGA mid amateur qualifiers and several large member events each season. The Powder Horn will also be hosting the 2011 women's Trans National Championship.

The original 18 holes opened in 1997 with Dominant Bentgrass greens. An additional 9 holes were opened in 2002 with L-93 Bentgrass greens. The fairways/tees are a Bluegrass/

Ryegrass mix.

With three distinct nines and two practice facilities, The Powder Horn is a great place to learn and grow in the industry.

Interns are exposed to all aspects of golf course management. Interns are treated similar to assistants and get out of the experience what they put in. Interns must ask questions and work as a team to excel. Interns are expected to complete a course project and manage small crews. Daily course work and providing input to the management of the course as a whole is essential.

The goal of our program is to prepare interns for their first job in turfgrass management. We work individually with interns on strengths and weaknesses to better prepare them for the increasingly tight job market. Our program includes pesticide and fertilizer applications, irrigation expansion/repair, crew supervision, mechanic instruction, safety meeting presentations, and golf outings to nearby facilities.

A past intern works on reshaping a putting green collar. (Drew Kleinmeyer: Iowa State Univ.).

Superintendent, Jason Busch, fishing in his spare time.

Salary & Benefits

Interns will be paid a salary of $550 per week. In addition to a competitive salary, interns will have golfing and fishing privileges in our stocked ponds and Little Goose Creek. On-site housing is available at a highly discounted rate. The Sheridan area also provides many opportunities for outdoor enthusiasts including hiking, camping, kayaking, fishing, and hunting.
